

NJ Laws of Arrest, Search & Seizure

2-Day "Holtz" Case Law Review

November 28 & 29, 20229:00am – 4:00pm*Fairfield, NJ*$295

ESPOS Arrest, Search and Seizure class was created by Larry E. Holtz, Esq. and is presented by Captain Edward Esposito. This two-day, highly-acclaimed program will update law enforcement officials in the recent developments and changes in the laws of arrest, investigative detentions (including "stop & frisk" and motor vehicle stops), search warrants, and the exceptions to the written warrant requirement. The seminar will focus on the court decisions which have been recently handed down by the United States Supreme Court, the NJ Supreme Court, and the various panels of the Appellate Division.

2-Day Arrest, Search & Seizure Seminar Highlights

ARREST

- Physical requirements
- The "objective" standard
- Probable cause requirement
- Arrest with warrant
- Warrantless arrests
- Entering dwellings
- Procedures following arrest
- Summons vs. warrant procedures

EXCEPTIONS TO THE WARRANT REQUIREMENT

- Preliminary issues
- Search incident to a lawful arrest
- Impounded vehicles & inventories
- Inventory of personal effects
- Exigent circumstances
- Automobile exception
- Consent searches
- Privacy expectations
- Plain view
- Plain touch
- Abandonment
- Private / Non-governmental searches
- Courthouses/Jails & related searches

OTHER POLICE-CITIZEN ENCOUNTERS

- The Mere Inquiry
- Investigative Pursuits
- Investigative Detentions: Persons
- Investigative Detentions: Vehicles
- Investigative Detentions: Property

SEARCH WARRANTS

- Preliminary issues
- Preference for written warrant
- Possible areas of attack by the defense
- Absence of a search warrant
- A neutral & detached judge
- The probable cause requirement
- Protecting informant's identity
- Controlled buys
- Affidavit integrity/truthfulness
- The particularity requirement
- "Knock & Announce"
- "Flash bang" devices
- Detaining occupants
- A "reasonable continuation"
- Anticipatory search warrants
- Telephonic search warrants

1-Day 2023 NJ Legal Update

December 5, 2023 or December 6, 2023 | 9:00am – 4:00pm | Fairfield, NJ | $150

ESPOS 2023 Legal Update has been created exclusively for this State's law enforcement and criminal justice professionals. Those who attend will receive a 2023 New Jersey Legislative Update Manual prepared by our legal subject matter expert, Larry E. Holtz. It is designed to update officers and other criminal justice personnel in 1-day by presenting the latest changes in, and additions to, the statutes in the criminal and motor vehicle laws, as well as associated laws of law enforcement interest. Each new or amended statute presented in this course and the accompanying manual may be treated as "current law," and may be immediately used wherever applicable. To enhance the presentation, legislative background and history is presented to provide an in-depth understanding of the changes. Also, where applicable, new case law that interprets the criminal or motor vehicle code has been included to assist with statutory application in real world situations. Rounding out the presentation will be the new Guidelines and Directives promulgated by the NJ Attorney General's Office.

Register online at www.esposlawenforcement.com | Group rates available for 5 or more registrations